

‘Soil Your Undies’

1st April – 31st May 2023

!!!! RESULTS TIME !!!!

At the launch of the SlowFood ‘Soil Your Undies’ initiative on 27th March 2023 at the highly successful Soil Workshop, various members signed up to bury a pair of cotton knickers (K-Mart specials) on 1st April and promised to dig them up on 31st May 2023 to see how much they had deteriorated. The worse they were, the better the soil, was the theory.

The results are now in!! Nick Otter has coordinated all the various responses. These show that most were just left with a few strings of elastic except for Mim’s that disappeared totally and Nick’s that were way behind everyone else some clear messages there it seems.

Thanks to everyone who participated in our bit of scientific fun.
